VOL. CXXXIV— No. 86. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1918. PRICE ONE CENT.

NOTED SPEAKERS TO ADDRESS LIBERTY BOND MEETING TO BE HELD SATURDAY NIGHT

Committee Anxious to See This City Win the First Honor Flag in Virginia.

Delegations from Alexandria County Planning to Hear the First Guns of the Campaign on Saturday Evening.

BUY YOUR BONDS NOW!

Patriotic Alexandrians, go to your banks at once and buy your Liberty Bonds. Get your liberty loan buttons, and your honor flags. Let's start the ball rolling. Let's go "over the top" early in the campaign. Let us show the nation that Alexandria IS 100 per cent patriotic.

Uncle Sam says: "I want to see a Liberty Bond in every American home."

Secretary McAdoo says: "For the welfare and prosperity of the nation, twenty million people should buy bonds in the Third Liberty Loan campaign, and they should be paid for out of future savings."

The Government has been good to Alexandria during the last year, so let us show our appreciation in a liberal way, and as an example to the other communities of Virginia, go over the Liberty Bond top early in the campaign.

You buy your bond tomorrow and it will influence your associates and neighbors to do likewise. BE A LEADER.

The first gun in the local Liberty Loan campaign will be fired Saturday night at the opera house. Three speakers, furnished by the national liberty loan speakers bureau, will be on the program. The Liberty loan committee is preparing to make this a big enthusiastic meeting. There will be delegations of both men and women from the Alexandria county liberty loan organization, and the women's liberty loan committee of Alexandria will have out a big representation.

The speakers will be George E. Pearson, famous as a survivor of the "Princess Pat" regiment and author of the "Princess Pat" stories in the Saturday Evening Post; Hon. Leo. S. Rowe, assistant secretary of the treasury; and Miss Katherine Synon, member of the National Woman's Liberty Loan committee. She is a prominent newspaper woman and a speaker of charm and force.

Assistant Secretary Rowe is a speaker of much ability and because of his official connection with the treasury department and the liberty loan organization, there has been a great demand for his services.

The banks of the city are expecting to receive the Liberty loan honor flags in the next day or two. Those who have already bought third liberty loan bonds should return to the banks, and get the flags and hang them in the windows of their home or places of business. If Alexandria goes over its allotment fixed by the government, the treasury department will give the city a big honor flag, 36 x 54 inches and made of good material. When Alexandria wins this flag it will be raised with appropriate ceremony.

Shairman Leo P. Harlow of the Liberty Loan committee is anxious to see this city the first in Virginia to win the flag. He is especially anxious that Alexandria win the coveted honor before Washington, where a tremendous attempt is already being made to go over the mark and win the honor flag.

Alexandria can easily win this honor flag if the people will buy their bonds early and buy them in sufficient quantities. That is, the man who can afford to buy $1,000 worth of bonds, should not feel that he has done his duty by buying one $100 bond.

The government wants this bond issue to be subscribed twice over for nothing will create greater dismay in Germany than the news that the United States is so enthusiastic and earnest in this war that the nation has subscribed double the allotment, and for the nation to do this, each community must do it.

447 American Casualties.

Washington, April 10.—Publication of 447 casualties today sent a sobering reaction throughout the nation of what the days ahead hold.

These casualties, withheld for six days under the Baker order making Pershing the arbiter of his own news, contained 18 names of men killed in action, 18 from other causes, and more than 300 wounded.

It also revealed that the Germans had taken a score of Americans prisoners.

Officials news of the American engineers' gallant battle in the first part of the Picardy drive is still lacking here.

Japanese Star At Richmond Tonight.

"The Honor of His House" is the title of the Paramount Picture which will be seen at the Richmond tonight with the famous Japanese actor, Sessue Hayakawa, as the star. The eternal triangle—two men and a woman—has been skilfully woven into the plot which is brought to a stirring climax in which the real hero sacrifices his life. For those who are interested in real drama, this will be a treat.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

Funeral services for the late Raymond Devers, will be held tomorrow, Thursday, afternoon, at 4 o'clock from the family residence, 1022 Queen street.

The Rev. Raymond W. White has been returned by the Maryland Conference as pastor of the Methodfist Protestant Church in this city.

Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison will go to Richmond today where he will attend the State Sunday School convention. This evening he will deliver an address on "The Call to Sacrifice," in St. John's Episcopal church, the historic house of worship in which Patrick Henry spoke a century ago.

The severe gale which has been raging since last night has caused serious alarm along the river front today. A pleasure boat, the "America," has been sunk at the foot of Pitt street, also a lumber schooner, which was anchored near the old Agnew shipyard. Unless the wind goes down before the arrival of the high tide at 8:30 tonight it is feared that considerable more damage may be caused to the boats and wharves by the big waves which are rolling in from the eastern shore. The storm, which has proved to be a regular northeaster, is one of the most severe experienced here in years.

While the choir sang "The Star Spangled Banner," a service flag bearing 23 stars was unfurled by two soldiers from Quantico last night at the First Baptist church in honor of the men who had gone from the J. R. N. Curtin Baracá Bible Class of that church to serve in Uncle Sam's army. The flag, which was presented by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the church, was accepted for the class by its teacher, Mr. Norman L. Williamson. Addresses were made by S. W. Pitts, superintendent of the Sabbath school; J. L. Foster, assistant; John Schafe, secretary; W. D. Burkett, Melvin P. Pitts and Dr. Lewis. Musical selections were given by Misses Helen Bowman, Dorothy Burkett, Susie Pulman, Evelyn Howard and Minnie and Ella Rigney. Mr. A. S. Mankin presided and prayer was offered by R. H. Cox. The service was of a most interesting character throughout.

A GIRL SHIPBUILDER.

Gets a Job in Seattle Yard, Dons Overalls and Says She Likes the Work.

Alexandria has over a thousand men employed in building shipyards and erecting the buildings where ships will soon be under construction, but no women have as yet applied for a position. It is possible they may later on. But out in Seattle, in the state of Washington, they have a real girl shipbuilder. Her name is Marguerite Gothe. She is nineteen years old and comes from Wisconsin.

Miss Gothe is holding down a regular job and making good. She wears overalls and is proud of them. She runs the treenail machine and treenail pointer, but also gives a helping hand in running one of the planers in the new Elliott Bay Shipbuilding Company plant. A treenail, pronounced trunnel and often spelled that way, is a wooden nail, used for fastening the frame together in a wooden ship.

"Like the job?" said Miss Gothe. "That's not the word. I am simply delighted with it. Running the machine is great fun, and then, you see, I get lots of fresh air. Why, this beats working in an office or behind a counter forty different ways. Then there is the satisfaction of knowing that I am doing something really worth while. Anyone who helps build a ship during the war period is helping Uncle Sam."

Buy Liberty Bonds.

This is Spring, which is the beginning of life and happiness. Let's spring a surprise on the kaiser, who is the mortal enemy of life and happiness, by oversubscribing the Third Liberty Bond issue.

No American has a right to interfere with production or the destination of products from this country. The resources of the country belong to Liberty. Liberty has the first call upon the manhood and womanhood of the nation, and upon all the products that are needed to STRIKE DOWN and ANNIHILATE the ENEMY.

A handsome altar, donated by the members of St. Mary's alumnae association in honor of the late Sister Maria Caronota, for seventeen years a teacher in St. Mary's academy, was dedicated at a mass meeting held in her honor in the convent chapel on Sunday. Two side altars, to accompany the main altar, donated by the famlies of the late George and John Harlow, and a Credence table, donated by Miss Katherine Weschler, of Washington, were also dedicated at the same service. All are pronounced as beautiful works of art.

There will be a called meeting of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company in its meeting rooms this evening at 7:30 p. m., at which matters of importance will be considered.

Those who go are requested to be at the Prince and Royal street station of the electric railway in time for the 7:35 car to Mount Vernon, where they will be met by officers of the Refreshment Corps of the Red Cross, who will act as chaperones. There will be an admission fee to the dance and refreshments will be extra as this chapter is desirous of realizing a substantial sum for Red Cross work.

Mr. Kenneth Clarke, who will give a selection of the camp songs Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the Parish Hall of Christ Church, is a singer of note and has been stationed at Camp Meade for some time as musical director. All who can possibly do so should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear Mr. Clarke and also become familiar with the songs sung by "our boys" in camp. The Cameron Club knowing what a treat is before the public in hearing Mr. Kenneth Clarke sing the songs of the camp has extended this opportunity to the club women in this vicinity. The officers from the women's cubs of Fairfax county and a few of the most prominent women in club life in Washington have gladly accepted the invitation to be present on Saturday afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to all Alexandria men and women, and the silver offering will be part of the Cameron Club's contribution to the school nurse fund.

STORM AND EARTHQUAKE

Unnoticed in Alexandria by Reason of the High Northeast Wind and Rain Prevailing at the Time.

The wind veered from the northwest to the northeast early Monday night, bringing rain, which continue throughout the night, all day yesterday, last night and most of today. Heavy flaws struck the city incessantly last night, rattling sash, swaying signs and breaking small branches from trees. No serious damage, however, is reported from the clements. The temperature hovered around the freezing point throughout the night. While the wind was roaring and the rain falling there were heavy seismic disturbances, said to have been almost as serious as those of August 31, 1886, which caused considerable damage in Charleston, S. C. The high winds, however, deadened the sound of the earthquake shocks in this city, and but few people knew of such an occurrence until this morning.

The country for miles around Alexandria was shaken for more than three minutes.

The shocks were felt in all Virginia cities and towns as far south as Richmond and Lynchburg, and reports indicated that the quake was especially pronounced in the Piedmont valley section of the state.

Georgetown University observatory seismographs showed that the quake centered probably within 200 miles of Alexandria. It began at 9 minutes and 12 seconds after 9 o'clock and lasted until 12 minutes and 30 seconds after that hour. It was of three millimeters intensity.

Thrilling experiences are reported in many places in Washington. Desks at the White House vibrated during the prevalence of the shocks.

Two distinct earthquake shocks were felt at Harrisonburg, Va. Houses in all parts of town were shaken and glass in a number of windows was broken.

ELECT C. C. BATCHELLER

Chosen by the Board of Aldermen to Fill Vacancy Caused by Resignation of J. B. Fitzgerald.

Six members — Messrs. Marbury, (president), and Robinson, Ballenger Harrison, Wilkins and Summers—responded to the call for the meeting of the upper board of the City Council last night. A quorum failed to appear in the Common Council, and those who were present adjourned to meet again next Monday night.

The Aldermen concurred in the action of the Common Council upon several measures, which had been laid over at the previous meeting. The proceedings occasioned no discussion and the votes were unanimous in each case.

Coleman C. Batcheller was nominated to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James B. Fitzgerald, member from the fourth ward, several weeks ago. No other names were suggested, and Mr. Batcheller was chosen by a unanimous vote.

Among the measures laid over two weeks ago was the report of the school and finance committees recommending an increase of 10 per cent in the salaries of the public school teachers. The Aldermen concurred in the action of the lower board by adopting the report.

The official proceedings will be found elsewhere in The Gazette.

MAKE COUNTER ATTACK.

British Recapture of Givenchy After Fierce Struggle Yesterday Evening.

London, April 10.—Heavy fighting continued north of the Labassee canal yesterday evening and last night, Field Marshal Haig reported today. The British are holding desperately along the Lys and Lawe rivers. A counter attack on the southern flank resulted in the recapture of Givenchy by the British.

"Fighting continued north of the Labassee canal yesterday evening and last night," the statement said.

"We are holding the line on the rivers Lawe and Lys and are heavily engaging the enemy on the crossings at Estaires and Bac St. Maur.

"On the southern flank Givenchy was recaptured in a successful counter attack. We took 750 prisoners here.

South of the Somme there was local fighting. The situation there is unchanged."

London, April 10.—The mighty battle of Picardy which started with the opening of the German offensive on March 21, has spread until it now covers nearly half of the western front.

As was expected, the terrific German bombardment between Lens and Armentieres has been followed by fierce infantry thrusts which compelled both the British and Portuguese to fall back slightly. Severe fighting has continued.

METHODIST PROTESTANTS.

Conference Closes its Session in Baltimore Yesterday.

Announcements of assignments for the year brought to a close yesterday afternoon the Methodist Protestant conference in Broadway Church in Baltimore. R. W. White was assigned to the church in Alexandria.

Sixteen hundred dollars was subscribed by the preachers, delegates and members of the laity attending the conference at the morning session to provide for a church at Odenton, Md., near Camp Meade, where special attention will be paid to entertaining of soldiers. To clear a deficit in the superannuated endowment fund $900 was contributed and the Revs. Haddaway, J. W. Kirk and C. P. Nowlin, with Daniel Baker, T. A. Murray and J. P. Dodge, were appointed a committee to plan for a $100,000-campaign to add to the endowment fund for retired ministers. The committee was instructed to report at the next conference.

The Rev. A. N. Ward read the reply which he received in the morning to the letter that was sent last week by the conference to President Wilson.

LET US FACE THE FACTS

Our Allies Must Have Food as Well as Soldiers to Help Them Fight and America Must Furnish It.

One year ago April 6th the United States ceased to be a neutral nation. By entering the war we tacitly pledged the Allies our fullest measure of support. They needed men, hundreds of thousands of them, and we are sending them. They had to have food, hundreds of thousands of tons, and we have been sending it. But their need is greater today than it has been at any time since the war cloud first broke. They still need men, but they must have food. We can send millions of men, inexhaustible supplies of ammunition—but they will be of no avail if we fail to support the troops over there and the people behind them. If the food fails them, they will fail.

We know now that never have the Allied nations faced a grimmer struggle for existence than confronts them today. We know that only to America may they turn for assistance. So great has been the toll of the U-boat that every ship must be made to work at full capacity. Every vessel must take the greatest possible number of trips, traveling to the nearest source of supply—America. If the source of supply fails them, it means that their ships must go farther from the scene of conflict. It means a dimunition of food. And that means an approach to starvation—failure, defeat.

The strength of those people over there depends solely upon us. Starving people cannot uphold their armies. And the armies, even if they are fed, cannot be kept in the field if the men know that privation and want are added to the suffering back home. The knowledge that their women and children were starving would rob them of the spirit which has maintained their determination to stand unyielding before the onslaughts of Prisaia.

We must face the fact that there is not in this country enough food to meet the actual necessities of Europe if we maintain our normal consumption. We must feed them, but we have left in America only the amount which would normally be consumed before another harvest. We can export only what we save. If our savings are small, Europe will be underfed—the war will be lost.

The greatest need in Europe today is for wheat. They must have millions of bushels. Seventy-five million bushels, on the first day of this year, was needed to tide them over till July 1st. Lord Rhondda, British Food Controller, cabled the United States Food Administration that unless America could supply it, he could not take responsibility for assuring the English that they would be fed.

As long as the first of last December, we had exported our entire wheat surplus. Since then we have been able to ship only what our people have saved—and we are falling behind on the program.

So grave has become the situation, that today it is no exaggeration to declare that he who wastes a slice of wheat bread is actually hindering the prosecution of war and endangering our chances for victory. Our wheat consumption must be cut to 1 1-2 pounds per week—a reduction of 50 per cent. This is a military necessity and should be viewed in no other light.

There are ways most of us can help. There is one way every one of us can help—by standing gaurd over our nation's larder. All of us cannot save, but all of us can do something to coordinate the nation's savings and to police the distribution of our food supplies. Across the sea they need badly the four principal staples we are being asked to save, meats, wheats, fats and sugar. But most of all they need wheat. Waste it and we are wasting lives.

On the curb we place upon our appetites depends the success of our men and the Allies in Europe.

Negotiations With Norway

Christiana, April 10.—That a detailed proposal for an agreement between Norway and America has just reached here from Washington, and that a speedy conclusion of negotiations to the satisfaction of both nations is looked for, is the declaration of leading newspapers here. The agreement proposed by Washington, say the Tidens Tegn, may have to be modified in some particulars, but on the whole, it is expected to be approved by this government.

WAR AGAINST THE WORLD.

In his speech, in Baltimore last Saturday, the President said: "We have ourselves proposed no injustice, no aggression."

An exchange in its comments suggests that Americans are not trying to destroy the German empire; we are trying to defend ourselves and civilization and democracy and mankind from a German attack. We did not begin this war; we did not get into it until Germany had been devastating the earth for nearly three years.

The President says with absolute accuracy that the Germans "have avowed that it was not justice, but dominion and the unhindered execution of their own will," that was their purpose.

The President said: "Their purpose is undoubtedly to make all the Slavic peoples, all the free and ambitious nations of the Baltic peninsula, all the lands that Turkey has dominated and misruled, subject to their will and ambition."

Now, the only yoke America would impose upon Germany the defeat of her program of world-conquest. And Germany's declaration that she will submit to no such yoke is a declaration of war against the world; and the world is much bigger than Germany, and will put that yoke of restrain upon her neck and bolt it there.

The German statement that "the world knows that the gigantic struggle now being fought in the west is a consequence of the will of the entente for war," is not only refuted by Prince Lichnowsky, who was the German ambassador in London in July, 1914, but it is refuted by Dr. von Jagow, who was foreign minister at the time, and who has been put forward in reply to the prince. On all the substantial points he admits that England in good faith tried to avert the war, but German and Austrian prestige demanded it. He even tacitly admits the conspiracy at Potsdam, July 5, 1914, to utilize the assassination of the Archduke Franz Ferdinand as an excuse for the war.

HISTORIC TOLLGATE RAZED.

The razing of the Hillman tollgate house takes away a historic landmark in the lower Shenandoah Valley. It was constructed in 1840, before there were railroads in that section, and it was a part of the thoroughfare from Tennessee to Alexandria, and often 20 to 30 wagons could be seen in a line making the trip to and from the boats at this city.

The first toll was collected at Gate No. 1 by Simeon Hillman, and he continued to collect toll until his death in 1860. From 1860 to 1862 the gate was kept by his widow, Charlotte Hillman, when, on account of war conditions, the gate was abandoned until 1865. The house was struck by a shell just before the Battle of Kernstown.

It was at this gate that Charlotte Hillman held up General Sheridan and his staff. The general paid the regular toll for himself and his staff followed his example.

"But," said the general as he passed through, "I cannot vouch for my army."

When the soldiers came up Mrs. Hillman raised the pole, but stood at her post all day long and kept tally and after the war she sent the toll to Washington and it was promptly paid.

General Sheridan passed through this gate again on his famous ride from Winchester. General Stonewall Jackson, in his valley campaign, frequently passed through it, always paying toll.

WHEN PEACE WILL COME.

"We have heard it said (ever so many times"), says the Kansas City Times, "that the present German offensive is the enemy's last desperate effort, and if it fails Germany will be ready for peace. Maybe so. Germany always has been ready for peace, on German terms. But if there is any public opinion in America that believes the war will end when the German thrust in Picardy is stopped, it is doomed to disappointment. Germany would be very glad to have all the allies believe she is desperate and near exhaustion. She has spread that belief with great industry before now and has found it to pay very well. Nothing would suit her purpose better now than to have America rest comfortably in the conviction that there will be nothing more to do after the present drive is stopped. Germany herself will rest in no such belief. If the present offensive fails Hindenburg and Ludendorff will be busy shaping public opinion at home for the next one. The war will be ended, not by the allies stopping a German drive, but by the Germans' failure to stop an allied drive—by the allies beating the Germans and pushing them out of France and Belgium and back within their own boundaries and keeping them there. The less we talk about getting peace by stopping the Germans sixty miles from Paris the better prepared we will be for the job that will still remain ahead after they are stopped. There will be no peace while a German soldier remains on French or Belgian soil.

DORSEY AGAIN AT LARGE.

One of the Schultz Murderers Takes French Leave From the State Farm.

Eugene Dorsey, one of three Alexandria negroes who are to pass the remainder of their lives in the penitentiary for participation in the murder of Walter Schultz, March 6, 1909, is again at large. Dorsey, it will be remembered, escaped from the state farm some time ago, and later came to this city where he delivered himself up to the authorities. He was returned to the penitentiary.

Walter Schultz was an artist of Chicago. He came to Washington to witness the inauguration of President Taft, and two days later visited Alexandria. Early on the morning of Sunday, March 7, 1909, his body was found in the snow a short distance from Rosemont station, on the electric railway, his throat having been cut. His gold watch was on his person and several letters of credit. Henry Smith was arrested the same day on suspicion of committing the murder, although the charge alleged was that he had stolen a watch. During the next day he told a remarkable story to the effect that Richard Pines, Calvin Johnson and Eugene Dorsey were the real murderers, and that he met the trio carrying the body west on Cameron street early the previous Saturday night. Pines, he alleged, forced him at the point of a pistol to aid in carrying the body. Pines, Johnson and Dorsey were unable to establish alibis, and the four were tried and sentenced to electrocution. Smith suffered the extreme penalty of the law, but the Governor commuted the sentences of the other participants. The trio sent to the penitentiary asserted their innocence from the first.

WHAT IT WILL COST.

Alexandria has been apportioned an amount expected of the city by the purchase of the third series of Liberty Bonds.

The timid practical soul who asks the question, what will it cost? should try to answer another. What will it cost us not to win this war?

One writer has said: "It would cost us the loss of a national independence, would give us a German Governor General at Washington and a German army of occupation, with all the insane brutality that war has taught the Germans, quartered upon us, and garrisons in every city." And that is only the beginning of the cost.

It would cost us an indemnity under which the American people would groan for decades.

It would cost us our position as the leader of civilization in America.

It would cost us the domination of Prussian influence in all our internal affairs, and Prussian authority over all our international relations.

It would cost us the last trace of freedom of speech and of thought; the last vestige of civil government.

It would cost us the opportunity to work out our national program, and develop our national life.

No wonder intelligent loyal Americans do not shrink from paying the price of victory!

WOULD LEAVE NO TRACE.

Rescued from the oil tanker Atlantic Sun, which was sunk by a German submarine, at the time his brother was drowned, George E. Daniels, of Camden, N. J., yesterday stated that the crew of the submarine tried to drown them, and that the commander attempted to send them off their course, after they managed to get in the lifeboats.

Daniels said he was thrown 12 feet in the air when the torpedo struck the tanker, and he fell back in several feet of water. "We had two quarts of brandy," said Daniels, "and we managed to keep the men we rescued alive until we reached shore by giving them a little at a time." He declared that he was not aware that his brother was dead until six days after the sinking.

Readers of The Gazette who peruse accounts of such cruelty upon the part of people who are supposed to be civilized will remember the action of the Spanish navy at Santiago when Captain Hobson and companions sank the steamer Merrimac in the narrow channel at Santiago for the purpose of blockading the Spanish fleet. After the sinking of the Merrimac and the crew had taken to the water the Spaniards came out and rescued Hobson and his men. Admiral Cervera, it will be remembered, was one of those who aided in the rescue of the Americans. What a contrast between the Castilians and the brutal Huns.

NEGRO ADMITS ATTACK.

Says He Hit Miss Ebert With Stone, But Did Not Touch Her.

Annapolis, Md., April 10.—Confessing that he struck Miss Cora Ebert, of Odenton, with a heavy stone last Friday afternoon just before he reported finding her lying beside the railroad tracks near Odenton station, but denying that he had beaten her to death, Archie Isaacs, negro track walker, gave a new story to officials yesterday.

The confession was made in the presence of Baltimore headquarters Detectives Dougherty and Hogan in the Annapolis jail yesterday afternoon, following a severe grilling for the negro. Later Sheriff Bellis, state's Attorney Green and the warden were called in.

Isaacs appeared to have something to say to the detectives during the forenoon, and seemed to be worried about something just before making his statement. However, about 2 o'clock he called them to his cell and told them he had been lying ever since he was arrested, but now that they had him in a tight place he would confess to all he knew of the tragedy.

The detectives went into the cell with him and he began by saying that on Friday afternoon he was working some distance from Odenton Station when he saw Miss Ebert coming toward him, and that this was the first time he had ever seen her. As she came closer, he said, he picked up a stone, and, not knowng why, he threw it at her.

Then he saw her fall, and knew the stone must have struck her. He said he could not recall what happened between this time and when he ran to the railroad station to report seeing her lying beside the rails.

He asserted that he never touched Miss Ebert, not even after she had fallen, and was at a loss to explain how his shoes became spotted with blood and how the long, heavy wrench, which the police believe he used, also happened to have blood marks upon it.

The detectives assert that Isaacs' inability or refusal to explain what occurred between the time of hitting Miss Ebert with the stone and his arrival at Odenton can easily be accounted for by the appearance of a struggle on the sand where Miss Ebert's body was found, the discovery of the wrench and the blood-stained shoes said to have belonged to the negro.

CONGRESSMAN RALLIES.

Veteran Virginia Representative Reported "Little Better."

Washington, April 10.—Representative William A. Jones, of Virginia, who was paralyzed Sunday night, rallied yesterday and his condition last night was pronounced as being a "little better" at George Washington Hospital. Mr. Jones has regained consciousness and, while he is not able to speak, he recognizes members of his family. His condition, however, is still recognized as grave.

Mr. Jones' physician declared that the stroke was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage or bursting of a small blood vessel in the brain. They said it would be three or four days before it was known whether or not the Virginian has a chance for recovery.

Mr. Jones' mental condition showed marked improvement throughout the day. This fact gave his family hope that he may recover.

Liberty Bread Shop.

Boston, April 10.—This city has a "Liberty Bread Shop." It has been opened at 35 Huntington Avenue and is being carried forward with the approval of the Massachusetts section of the Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense, and the Woman's Committees on Food Conservation of State and city. It is the work of six prominent organization of women and follows the work of the Canning Kitchen which proved such a success during the summer.

The shop gives the public practical information on legitimate and palatable substitutes for white bread, and there are daily demonstrations in bread making.

All the work of baking is done by an expert baker. Volunteer workers act as saleswomen, and serve luncheons.

FIVE YEARS MORE OF WAR.

Forecast by Business Leaders at Meeting of Chamber of Commerce of United States.

Chicago, April 10.—Five years more of war—perhaps ten—were forecast by business leaders here today for the sixth annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. And counting certain ultimate though costly, victory over Germany, the organization is already planning for great industrial changes it expects will follow the war.

Among the "shock troops" in the vanguard of the 3,000 delegates, who were here today, were Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant, and Merle Thorpe, editor of "Nation's Business."

Reflecting the views of some of the highest officers in Washington, Filene and Thorpe predicted a long war for this country.

"I know that this Government's plans are adapted to a war of most any length—five or even more years." said Filene. "The next six months will be a crisis in the shipping situation. The allies and the United States are reaching out for every possible ship to carry us over the crisis until the big shipyards begin their big deliveries."

Thorpe, who predicted "five—possibly ten—years more of this war," disclosed that the chamber's industrial relations committee and other bodies are seriously concerned with the social changes being brought about by the conflict.

"I don't mean that the chamber is trying to prevent these changes," he said, "but we desire to see them brought about in a bloodless revolution, if necessary, and not as in Russia. Every one recognizes that the relations between labor and capital are likely to be changed after the war. The Nottingham labor program approved by the British government is the most radical ever dreamed of. It means there won't be any so-called 'gentlemen' in England for two generations. We may have similar labor programs in the United States following the war."

REAL BLIZZARD WEATHER

Snow Piles Deep Enough to Impair Rail and Trolley Traffic.

Shamokin, Pa., April 10.—A severe blizzard was raging through the middle western coal region yesterday, an 8-inch snowfall having been recorded. Trolley and railroad schedules are disarranged and difficulties were experienced at the mines. The temperature fell late in the day to below freezing and early spring vegetables have been damaged.

Towanda, Pa., April 10.—Thousands of dollars' damage was caused throughout practically the whole of Bradford county yesterday by the heaviest April snowfall on record here. The storm completely tied up traffic along many of the roads during the day, and farmers predict that the fruit crop will be almost an entire loss and the winter wheat is expected to suffer considerably.

Shenandoah, Pa., April 1.—A cold wave, accompanied by rain, snow and sleet ,together with a high northwest wind, with gale force at times, sent the mercury 10 degrees below freezing today, and last night, going much lower, badly crippled trolley traffic, paralyzing it at points, forcing steam roads to run far behind schedule and badly hampering all business.

Bellefonte, Pa., April 10.—A regular winter blizzard prevailed here all yesterday, with snow ever since early morning. Much of it melted, but in the mountains it is from six to eight inches deep, and last night the mercury was below freezing.

Mahanoy City, Pa., April 10.—On the heels of two weeks of fair weather, this region was hit with a snowstorm yesterday. Snow fel lto a depth of three inches and still is falling.

SLAIN IN STORE HOLD-UP.

Proprietor of Shop Also Shot and Is Believed to Be Dying of Wounds.

Philadelphia, April 10.—One man was shot and killed instantly, another received a bullet in the head and is in a critical condition, and a woman, the wife of the second man, was blackjacked, late yesterday afternoon, following a hold-up of the jewelry store of Karl Kempter, 118 Girard avenue. The dead man is Charles J. Martin, 45 years old, who was shot down when, unarmed, he attempted to capture one of the bandits. Kempter was shot when he refused to release his hold on a tray of diamonds, and Mrs. Kempter was struck several times on the head when she ran to the assistance of her husband.

Three men figured in the daring day-light robbery and shooting and two of them were caught after being pursued for several squares by a crowd of infuriated men and women. The prisoners were taken to the station house, where they described themselves as William Morrison, 25 years old, and John Murray, of Camden.

EXONERATED FOR KILLING.

Takoma Park Man Who Shot G. Phelps Did So in Self Defense.

Uriah Heeter, 29 years old, was exonerated by the coroner's jury at Hyattsville, Md., last night for the shooting of George Phelps at his home in Sligo Mills road, Takoma Park, Monday night.

Phelps was shot when he appeared at the Heeter home and demanded admittance. Testimony at the inquest brought out the fact that Phelps had been repeatedly warned to stay away from the house, and the jurors believed that the fatal shot was fired in defense of Heeter's wife and home.

When Phelps appeared at the Heeter home, the testimony revealed, he is alleged to have said, "Open the d—— door or I will blow the lock off."

Heeter procured his pistol and leaving the house by the front door went to the rear of the house and told Phelps to leave the place. Phelps, according to the evidence, pointed a revolver in the face of Heeter and the latter fired.

Former Sheriff Fulton Gates, hearing the shot at his home, a short distance away from the shooting, started an investigation, when Heeter appeared and told him that he had shot a man and wanted to surrender.

Gates and Heeter returned to the scene of the shooting and found Phelps lying at the foot of the back steps, unconscious and apparently dying.

Phelps was placed in a passing automobile and brought to Garfield Hospital, where he died early yesterday morning.

"For four years my wife and I have been annoyed by the intrusions of Phelps," Heeter said last night. "He knew my wife as a child. They played together and a sort of affection existed between them as children.

"He insisted on visiting my wife during my absence, and I have frequently warned him to keep out of my house."

Heeter had been employed as an engraver at Harris and Company, 400 Seventh street northwest, Washington, D. C., for the last fifteen years. He stood well in the community where he lived, and, according to the neighbors was hardworking and industrious.

Phelps was 21 years old and was a plasterer by trade.

Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Blow Your Own Horn or No One will Know You're on Earth

THIS IS GOING TO BE AN EXPLANATION, NOT AN EXCUSE.

ASIDE FROM THE FACT THAT WE HAD ENOUGH CAPITAL TO EQUIP FEATHERSTONE FARMS AS THE MOST MODERN AND SANITARY DAIRY FARM IN VIRGINIA, WE HAD MR. E. V. BRUSH TO FURNISH THE "KNOW-HOW."

MR. BRUSH HAS BEEN PRODUCING "CERTIFIED MILK"—THE CLEANEST AND BEST OF MILK—ALL HIS LIFE. AND THE REASON HE HAS DONE THAT IS BECAUSE HE IS THE SON OF DR. E. F. BRUSH, OF MT. VERNON, NEW YORK.

DR. BRUSH IS A GENIUS.

HE IS A PHYSICIAN, AND, OVER THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, RECOGNIZED THE FACT THAT A GREAT PART OF THE DISEASES OF CHILDREN COME FOM THE USE OF TOO LITTLE MILK OR FROM THE USE OF POOR MILK.

IN ORDER TO GET GOOD MILK FOR HIS PATIENTS, HE BOUGHT A FARM AND ESTABLISHED ONE OF THE FIRST CLEAN DAIRIES IN THE COUNTRY.

WE ARE GOING TO REFER TO AND QUOTE FROM DR. BRUSH, HENCE THIS EXPLANATION, BECAUSE WE DON'T WANT YOU TO THINK WE'RE "ALL SWELLED UP."

A LARGE PART OF WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT MILK, WE'VE LEARNED FROM DR. BRUSH, AND A PHYSICIAN, WHO HAS ALSO BEEN A DAIRYMAN FOR THIRTY-FIVE YEARS, OUGHT TO KNOW A LOT ABOUT IT.

No Stronger Evidence Can be Had in Alexandria.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement.

John T. Langley, 514 Queen St., Alexandria, Va., says: "For two years or more I was subject to pain and weakness in my back. I often couldn't stoop or walk and was confined to the house for days. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills in the papers and got a box. Soon after I used them I noticed an improvement and they completely relieved me in a shore time."

MAKE COTTAGE CHEESE.

Department of Agriculture Sends Workers to Every State to Encourage Production and Use of Meat Substitute.

Washington, April 10.—To encourage the use, as well as the making of cottage cheese—a cheap and palatable substitute for meat—the United States Department of Agriculture has launched a campaign in which nearly a hundred field workers will take part and which is to carry to every state in the Union this lesson:

Cottage cheese is made from skim milk—now largely wasted or fed to animals. A pound of cottage cheese has the same food value as a pound of meat. Make cottage cheese, and thus put to valuable use wasted skim milk. Eat cottage cheese; save the meat for our soldiers and the allies.

Three of the big divisions of the Department of Agriculture are working in the campaign, which also has the co-operation of the United States Food Administration.

The Bureau of Animal Industry, through its dairy division, is sending forty-seven women, dairy agents, to as many states to stimulate the making of cottage cheese on farms and also to co-operate with urban demonstration agents in encouraging the use of cottage cheese on city tables. The state relations service has sent a party of women home-demonstration agents to various cities to demonstrate many new and attractive cottage-cheese dishes originated in Uncle Sam's food laboratories in Washington. From Cleveland the home-demonstration workers will go separately to the other cities and towns to repeat their work. The Bureau of Markets, meanwhile, is sending agents to the cities visited by the home-demonstration campaign. The market's men are getting in touch with wholesale and retail distributors of cottage cheese. Twenty-two men also, are sent out by the dairy division to encourage the production and improve the quality of cottage cheese produced in creameries and milk plants.

There is even a cottage cheese song. It is not made from cottage cheese, but it celebrates its virtues. The 47 women, who are going into 47 states sang it at the cottage cheese luncheon.

One stanza runs this way:

If a body see a body making cottage cheese,
Try it, eat it, talk it, preach it, boost it, if you please.
We are out to save skim milk and make it into cheese,
Let Uncle Sammie have the meat, and send it o'er the seas.

GEORGE'S BOLD STROKE.

Couples Home Rule in the Emerald Isle With Conscription of Irishmen.

London, April 10.—David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, yesterday made the boldest stroke of his career by coupling home rule for Ireland with the conscription of Irishmen.

This unexpected disclosure in an address by the premier in the house of commons in presenting the new conscription bill to parliament swept aside all interest in the details of the conscription scheme.

The question asked is how will the Irish parties and their British sympathizers take the new policy.

The prime minister, among other things, said:

"Conscription must be applied to Ireland."

"Men up to 50 years of age must fight."

"The greatest battle in the history of the world has just been fought. Exactly what has happened cannot yet be told."

"Cambrai was 'a very trivial event' compared with it.

"We have now entered the most critical phase of this terrible war. There is a lull in the storm, but the hurricane is not over. Doubtless we must expect more fierce outbreaks, and ere it is finally exhausted there will be many more."

"Extreme sacrifices on the part of large classes of the population will be demanded."

Dublin, April 10.—The corporation of the city of Dublin yesterday adopted a resolution warning the British government against "disastrous results of any attempt to force conscription upon Ireland." The resolution adds that such an "insane proposal" would be resisted violently by every town and village in Ireland.

COLD DAMAGES FRUIT CROP.

Snow Covers Shenandoah Valley and Blue Ridge Mountains.

Richmond, Va., April 10.—Reports from various parts of the State indicate that the cold weather of yesterday seriously damaged the fruit crops. At Winchester snow was still falling late last night and covered fields to a depth of three inches.

Reports from Lynchburg said the Blue Ridge Mountains are snow covered tonight. Snow fell in Richmond yesterday and a cold rain was falling last night.

TWO AIRPLANES IN CRASH.

One Cadet Killed And Another Is Hurt in Texas.

Dallas, Tex., April 10.—Cadet John Insinger, of Greeley, Col., was instantly killed at Love Field, in American aviation camp here today, when two machines crashed together about 500 feet in the air.

Cadet Earl Zinn, who was piloting the machine which collided with Insinger's airplane, was slightly injured.

FRENCH BOMB SUPER-GUN.

Aviators Make Handling of Huge Piece Difficult.

Paris, April 10.—French aviators have discovered the location of the big gun with which the Germans have been bombarding Paris at long range and the continual bombardment of the spot by the French artillery and bombing by the airmen have made the handling of the piece difficult. This explains the intermittent fire of the long-range weapon.

The piece is mounted at Crepy-en-Laonnois, near the road from La Fere to Loan.

INHUMAN ACTS OF HUNS.

Experience of Sergeant Christopher Jones, of British Field Artillery.

Chicago, April 10. — The thrilling story of his experiences against the Huns in France was told by Sergeant Christopher Jones, of the Royal British field artillery, in the psychopathic court here.

Three times he was wounded and five times he went through the horrors of being gassed "over there." He has been doing duty at the British recruiting office here since his discharge in 1917. He still carries a piece of shrapnel in his skull, received at the battle of Ypres, when for five days he lay in a shell hole, without food or drink, until a hospital dog rescued him.

Jones was in the fighting at Albert when that city was attacked and the cathedral destroyed.

"That was where the Boches gave bombs to the children, bombs painted like toys and set to explode in a few minutes," said Jones. "The poor kids, they never had a chance. Yes, I saw some of these explosions. And I saw old women given the bayonet.

"We charged them, but our officers wouldn't let us kill them. We had to take them prisoners when they hollered 'kamerad.'

'When I was captured the Boches threw me into a forty-foot pit with a lot of other prisoners. They told me I could get out if I worked in the munition factories. I told them to go to h——, and stayed in the pit.

"One night two of us overpowered a guard, climbed up on the rope which they used to let water down to us, and escaped. We went through woods and swam rivers until we got to sea. We got on a fishing boat and woke up on the coast of France."

FAILURE MEANS END OF WAR

If German Drive Fails War Will End In Fall, Representative Says.

"Germany will be a defeated nation, and the war will end next fall if the allied armies succeed in smashing the present Prussian drive," declared Representative Dill at last night's annual banquet of George Washington Law School, held at New Masonic Temple.

"If our armies give way before the Huns, then America must bear the brunt of a long and terrible war, and there will be no course but to buckle on anew the determination to fight for right's triumph in all the world," Mr. Dill added.

George F. Moore urged a common language for every resident of this country. "We must have American culture and ideals untainted with any other form of kultur under the sun," he said.

Justice Wendell P. Stafford gave voice to the allies' intention of losing everything they now possess before they will be brought to their knees before the Kaiser. Rear Admiral Stockton, president of the university, also delivered an address. Merton L. Ferson, dean of the Law School, presided as toastmaster.
